

Workplace Investigations in the Age of #MeToo

Webinar

November 27, 2018 | 12:00 p.m.

Workplace investigations must be thorough, unbiased and timely, requiring precision work at every stage of the process. The evolution of the #MeToo movement has applied increasing scrutiny to workplace investigations, including whether, how and when to investigate – and key considerations related to communications and potential publicity arising from #MeToo and other workplace allegations. On Tuesday, November 27th at noon, please join Foster Pepper's Employment & Labor law team, along with guest speakers Roger Nyhus and Heidi de Laubenfels of communications firm Nyhus, for a complimentary webinar exploring some of the complexities of this contemporary topic, including:

- Deciding whether and when to conduct an investigation
- Selecting an investigator
- Planning the investigation
- Assessing privilege and confidentiality considerations
- Conducting witness interviews
- Ensuring against retaliation, and other post-investigation follow-up steps
- Understanding specialized public employer considerations
- Planning and coordinating internal and/or external communications, if needed
- Responding to unexpected publicity

If you have a question you would like addressed during the presentation, please email Price Herriage-Wilson before the program at price.herriage-wilson@foster.com.

When:

Tuesday, November 27, 2018
12:00 - 1:30 p.m.

Speakers:

Contact

P. Stephen DiJulio

Steven R. Peltin

Related Services

Labor, Employment &
Immigration

Steve Peltin, Foster Pepper

Steve DiJulio, Foster Pepper

Alicia Feichtmeir, Foster Pepper

Roger Nyhus, Nyhus

Heidi de Laubenfels, Nyhus

RSVP:

Please RSVP to events@foster.com by Friday, November 23, 2018.

CLE (attorney) credits pending.

Certificate of completion available for other organizations.

Materials:

To view the materials, please click here.

To listen to a recording of the webinar, click here.