

Deal Killers: What They Are, and How To Avoid Them

Published Article

March 10, 2017

Radio & Television Business Report (subscription required)

Related Services

Business & Corporate
Finance

There aren't many decisions bigger than the one to sell your radio or television station. If you are contemplating a sale, make sure that you avoid some common pitfalls that can disrupt and possibly derail the sale of your company. We've provided a list of the most common deal killers and how to avoid them.

Read the complete article on the Radio & Television Business Report website. Subscription is required