

Global Families Can Overcome Challenges of Estate Planning

Published article
March 12, 2019
Puget Sound Business Journal

Despite threats of trade wars, the world is getting smaller, flatter and more interconnected. In Washington state, our historic ties to other Pacific Rim countries grow stronger each year as more global families make this area their home. Once they're here, it's important that they complete their estate planning, including wills, powers of attorney and health care directives.

Read the full article on Puget Sound Business Journal's website. Subscription is required.

Related Services

Charitable & Tax-Exempt Organizations

Trusts & Estates Litigation

Trusts, Estates & Charitable Organizations