Arrin assists early-stage and growth-stage businesses in commercial, regulatory, risk, strategy, corporate and governance matters.

Arrin regularly advises clients on corporate formation and governance, commercial transactions, and mergers and acquisitions. He also has experience drafting corporate governance documents and negotiating multi-year commercial services agreements and technology vendor agreements. Arrin clients cut across multiple sectors and also include fintech businesses and other financial institutions.

Arrin brings in-house counsel experience, having previously served as Assistant General Counsel for Vanderbilt University. While there, his primary clients included the school's technology commercialization center, trademark licensing department, office of sponsored research, athletic department and innovation and entrepreneurship center.
