About this blog

Sara Sandford on 1.14.15 | Posted in General

Greetings to our readers! The International Group at Garvey Schubert Barer is excited to launch a blog to offer:

- Items of general interest

- Links to resources

- News on legal trends and developments

- Observations from experience

- Practical pointers

We have developed this blog for our clients and friends working in and with cross border businesses. Although each client's situation is unique, many of the common challenges faced by those who go abroad to conduct business have solutions that we have learned over the decades. In addition to sharing our own insights, we will repost items that we hope will be of interest, especially on hot topics.

As you can see from the options available to the right of the screen, we will cover a variety of topics and regions. Feel free to select from those options to find the posts of most interest to you. Feel free also to contact us with topics you're interested in learning about. We'll do our best to listen. And if you have legal assistance on a posted topic, the authors listed can help you get answers. Please don't hesitate to reach out.
