

"Joint Defense Agreements," Women's White Collar Defense Association Luncheon (Oregon Chapter)

Speaking Engagement
April 26, 2019
Portland, OR

Besides clearly delineating the parties' common interest, joint defense agreements provide a host of other benefits and cures — often utilized to facilitate efficient, coordinated, and cost-effective case preparation. Such agreements, however, are not without complication and risk.

At this WWCDA lunch presentation, our litigators present a number of real-life examples in which joint defense agreements created significant problems, illustrating just how easy it is to mishandle one.

Contact

Eryn Karpinski Hoerster

Related Services

Litigation

White-Collar Defense & Investigations