

Obtained judgment for claims administrator in ERISA disability benefit dispute

Williby v. Aetna Life Ins. Co. (C.D. Cal. 2018). Secured judgment for claims administrator on remand. After the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals vacated a judgment for the claimant and remanded for consideration under the correct standard of review, the District Court concluded that the administrator's decision to terminate short-term disability benefits was reasonable and supported by the administrative record.

Related Services

Labor & Employment
Litigation
Litigation