Established in 1998, the Spokane office of Foster Garvey has provided a broad range of legal counsel to clients in the Greater Spokane area and beyond for more than 20 years. As the diversity of businesses operating in the region has evolved, so have the services we offer our clients.

Our clients include public and private, local and national organizations with interests in the Inland Northwest, and we are regularly called upon to provide advice to companies expanding into and beyond our community.

Foster Garvey Spokane attorneys serve clients in numerous industries, including manufacturing, agriculture, financial services and real estate, as well as municipalities including cities, counties, school districts and other special districts.

Today, our lawyers practice across the areas of corporate transactions, complex commercial litigation, intellectual property, environmental, trusts and estates, real estate, public finance and tax. The 2019 edition of U.S. News-Best Lawyers[®] listed our Spokane office as Tier 1 for Commercial Litigation and Municipal Law.

Our attorneys are well-known through the region for their participation on the boards of organizations such as Women Helping Women Fund, Inland Northwest Planned Giving Council, Life Services and East Central Community Center.
