

The Life and Death of Minority Tax Certificates

Publication
February 9, 2017
Radio & Television Business Report

In 2010, Erwin Krasnow authored a column featured in Radio & Television Business Report on minority tax certificates. Given the renewed discussion on the topic in Washington, D.C. recently, his column was republished. He hints at how the current administration may, or may not, respond to calls to bring back the minority tax certificate.

Read the Radio & Television Business Report article. Subscription is required.