

Protect Your Good Name... Keyword Advertising and Trademark License

Publication
March 1, 2013
Hospitality Upgrade

Contact
Ruth Walters

The Internet can be a hard, hard place for brand owners. Yet failing to engage potential guests online across a variety of platforms is no longer a viable option for the majority of hospitality industry participants. It is crucial that brand owners exercise control over their marks whenever possible. This article focuses on the legal use of keyword advertising, and provides some tips about how to negotiate trademark licenses in online distribution and marketing agreements...

To read the full article click here.