2017 NYU Summer Institute in Taxation

06.15.17 01.07.26

Please join me at the NYU Summer Institute in Taxation this July in New York City. This year, I will be presenting “Entity Classification - Another Look at the Check-the-Box Regulations” on Day 2 (July 27) of the Institute's Advanced Income Tax and Wealth Planning Conference, where I will discuss recent developments, flexibility and planning opportunities created by the regulations, traps that exist for the unwary, and practical tax practitioner guidance. The NYU Summer Institute is chock-full of information and resources, and one of the leading educational forums for tax practitioners of all levels to stay up-to-date in the world of taxation legislation and regulations. Download the conference brochure and obtain registration details at the NYU Summer Institute in Taxation webpage. I look forward to seeing you in New York City.
