“An Industry Conversation for Washington Wineries,” Washington Wine Institute

December 3, 2026 Woodinville, WA

Emily Harris Gant will join Josh McDonald of the Washington Wine Institute and Matthew Loso of Woodinville Custom Wines at The Winemakers Reserve to discuss the legal, regulatory and business issues affecting Washington wineries.

The panel will address wine industry developments ahead of the 2027 legislative session, along with licensing and permitting requirements, and recent enforcement trends involving the Washington State Liquor and Cannabis Board. They will also discuss how changes in distribution and market conditions are affecting wineries, including opportunities to reduce operational costs through custom crush arrangements.

Washington Wine Institute members are encouraged to RSVP by contacting info@thewinemakersreserve.com with their full name and winery by November 30.
