Foster Garvey

Publications

Mediation Confidentiality: Are there two interpretations of Alfieri v. Solomon?

06.01.17 GSB Newsroom

Oregon's mediation statutes create a zone of confidentiality to encourage negotiated settlements through confidential and frank discussions among litigants, lawyers, and mediators. Communications that qualify as "mediation communications" under the statutory definition cannot be disclosed and are inadmissible in any adjudicatory proceeding, unless the parties consent to the disclosure in writing.

Download the full article.

Featured People

Daniel L. Keppler

General Counsel|Portland

503.553.3231 dan.keppler@foster.com

Related Areas

- Alternative Dispute Resolution
- Litigation
- Litigation

© 2026 Foster Garvey PC. All Rights Reserved.