Foster Garvey

Real Estate, Land Use & Environmental

Invested in your project's success

Our attorneys bring respected and well-rounded experience across every aspect of real estate law, including commercial and real estate finance to land use, environmental regulations, zoning, water rights and litigation.

We work on a wide range of projects, including commercial buildings, mixed-use developments, shopping centers, medical facilities, hotels, resorts, single and multi-family housing. Our land use and environmental attorneys understand the unique challenges that come with projects of all sizes and are here to help you navigate them smoothly.

Our clients range from local and national real estate developers and property owners to lenders, REITs, fund sponsors and property managers. No matter the size or scope of your project, our team is here to support you with practical legal solutions to help you achieve your goals.
